Guy Lombardo's Royal Canadians

Under Al Pierson's leadership Guy Lombardo's music lives on!
Jan 18-19 M - Tu

Countless people remember with nostalgia the tradition of Guy Lombardo with his Royal Canadians playing at New York City's Waldorf Astoria on New Year's Eve. Since the death of Lombardo in 1977, "Auld Lang Syne" at the stroke of midnight has become a tradition as it is performed by various bands before enthusiastic audiences throughout the world. Besides their signature song, the most important ingredient of the Guy Lombardo Orchestra was its consistency in playing wonderful tunes like "Seems Like Old Times", "Boo Hoo", "Coquette", "Sweethearts on Parade" and "Ain't She Sweet", all written by Carmen Lombardo. "Johnson Rag", "Bye Bye Blues", and "Enjoy Yourself" are recognizable Royal Canadian tunes. Tickets: Preferred $27 Good $23

The Four Freshmen

The Four Freshmen's profound influence on American pop singing began in 1948 with four students at Butler University in Indianapolis, Indiana. Hal Kratzsch, brothers Ross and Don Barbour, and their cousin Bob Flanigan created a brand new vocal sound. Working without written music and choosing notes by ear, they spread their jazz voicing over a wider range than other groups, and they imitated the phrasing and aggressive feel of a big band brass section. The Four Freshmen continue to bring their unique brand of vocal harmony to audiences worldwide. The names and faces have changed a few times along the road, but the legendary sound continues under the watchful eye of original member Bob Flanigan....

The Winter Video Series at Gulf Shores Museum will focus on industrialization and innovation during the early part of the twentieth century. Come to the Museum Wednesdays and Saturdays throughout January, February, and March to enjoy an assortment of movies covering some of the many exciting events and social reforms that Americans were concerned with at the turn of the twentieth century.

Contemplate our most recent exhibit "Innovation, Industrialization and Immigration" featuring important people, places, and events that shaped the Twentieth Century. Examine displayed items from the years leading up to the "Great War" and explore how these modern innovations drastically altered small town life in the United States.

Join us at Gulf Shores Museum as we explore the changing face of warfare in the Twentieth Century.

January

Jan 2 Sat 11AM & Jan 6 Wed 10AM Video: "Horatio's Drive: The First Road Trip". This American Experience video is a vivid celebration of pioneering "automobilist", Dr. Horatio Nelson Jackson and his 1903 journey from San Francisco to New York City, 146 minutes, refreshments served.

Jan 9 Sat 11AM & Jan 13 Wed 10AM Video: "One Woman, One Vote". American Experience DVD documenting the struggle and opposition early crusaders faced from men and women who feared the women's vote would ignite a social revolution. 106 minutes, refreshments served.

Jan 16 Sat 11AM & Jan 20 Wed 10AM Video: "The Wizard of Photography". This American Experience DVD chronicles George Eastman's photographic industry. A brilliant innovator and entrepreneur whose popular Kodak and Brownie camera systems transformed a complex, expensive technology used by a small professional elite into one that anyone could use, he changed the way people viewed time and the world around them. 60 minutes, refreshments served.

Jan 23 Sat 11AM & Jan 27 Wed 10AM Video: "Radio: Out of Thin Air". History Channel's Modern Marvel series documents how radio changed life in America. This DVD introduces viewers to the men who took the work that had been done on the telegraph to the next level; and tells the story of the dawn of the electronic age, when the wireless was a stunning phenomenon. 50 minutes, refreshments served.

Jan 30 Sat 11AM Video: "Woodrow Wilson". This first showing of the American Experience DVD recalls the transformation of a history professor into one of American's greatest presidents who led us into World War I. This part one DVD will be shown today and Feb 3. See Feb 6 & 10 for part two, 90 minutes, refreshments served.

February

May

Current exhibit: Pilot Town. A collection of photos and artifacts that tell a story of the Bar Pilot settlement at Navy Cove that was washed away during the 1906 hurricane.

June

Current exhibit: Portrait of a Fishing Village. This exhibit tells of the lives and livelihoods of Pleasure Island's earliest settlers along Little Lagoon.

Working and living along the Gulf Coast will be our theme for summer programming.

Look for youth summer activities on this web site. Contact Gulf Shores Museum at 968.1473 for additional information.

Gulf Shores Museum Exhibits

Four exhibits are on permanent display at Gulf Shores Museum. Additional exhibits are being created continuously and are rotated every three months. This winter, take the time to contemplate a recent exhibit titled "Innovation, Industrialization and Immigration" featuring important people, places, and events that shaped the Twentieth Century.

Permanent Exhibits:

Hurricanes Everyone has a different reason for lingering at this exhibit. The Hurricane Exhibit gives information about how they form, where they originate, and general facts. Videos, charts, photos, and news articles from the storm of 1906 through the current season illustrate the devastation that hurricanes cause and how a community rebuilds following such a catastrophic event.

Portrait of a Fishing Village was originally created by residents of the Lagoon Village. It recounts the lives of several families who settled along the north side of Little Lagoon during the 19th Century. Many objects used in their daily lives are exhibited alongside the pictorial display.

Pilot Town: Bar Pilots were very important to Mobile Bay commerce during the nineteenth century. This exhibit describes the work and recreational activities of a small group of pilots and their families while living at Navy Cove. When the 1906 Hurricane swept over the Fort Morgan Peninsula destroying this community, survivors relocated and did not return to live at Navy Cove.

Drawing a Line In the Sand highlights some of the area's early visionaries and community leaders. Read about the many obstacles they overcame to incorporate the Town of Gulf Shores and see items collected from our 52 years of incorporation.
